Put yourself in the picture

Have you ever wanted to be a TV personality or a great producer? Maybe you would just like to run the equipment used to produce a TV show – either in the studio or out in the field. Or maybe even be a news reporter.

To help you achieve these goals, TV Toastmasters, club 8288 of Toastmasters International, was chartered on December 13, 1998.

TV Toastmasters has the motto “We don’t just meet, we produce.”

TV Toastmasters seeks participation from other Toastmasters and Toastmaster groups. We provide every District 2 Toastmaster the opportunity to participate in production of actual studio live and taped broadcasts.

For maximum educational benefits, you could join our specialty club. However if you only want to see what you look like on television, or would like to see your club meeting on TV, please be our guest.

Membership is open to any member of a regular Toastmasters club. Although we are classed as an advanced club it is not necessary to have achieved your CTM before joining us. However, you should belong to another club, because we meet

When you join, you will be asked to complete the orientation and Technology workshops at the Northwest Access & Production Center (Public Access channels 29 and 77). You will also be asked to become camera certified as soon as possible, which means that they will know how to use the TV camera at the studio. You can learn basic camera operation during a show.

We produce programs about once a month. We are also taping a series of programs tape for each chapter in the Communication and Leadership Manual. It is hoped that the completed series can be presented more widely than our monthly show.
