THE VENTURE CAPITALIST POOL -- 2008/9 NFL SEASON

W ith this sports contest, you have action each week, including the postseason, yet you make picks only once. The rules are simple: As a virtual venture capitalist and N FL team owner, you begin with $\$ 500$ 'monopoly money' to acquire teams for the entire season. The number of teams you own depends on the price (you may not select any team more than once). You get $\mathbf{1}$ point for every regular season victory, $\mathbf{3}$ points for each playoff victory, $\mathbf{4}$ points for a division championship, $\mathbf{5}$ points for a conference championship, and $\mathbf{7}$ points for a Super Bowl victory. (W inners of conference championship \& Super Bowl games get 5 or 7 points for that game, and not 3 extra for the playoff win). N o points are awarded for ties.
There are FIVE winners. Highest point total is worth $60 \%$; runner-up gets $20 \%$; third places gets $10 \%$; fourth place gets 5\%; and last place finisher gets $5 \%$. In the event of ties amongst VC owners, the prize will be split. (Example - Ferdinand and Isabella finish in a tie for second place. They share the prize for second and third places. Archie, who finished behind the winner and Ferdinand and Isabella, takes the $4^{\text {th }}$ place prize). Every player will be entitled to a season long subscription to the VCU (Venture C apitalist U pdate) and can get weekly standings on line at this web address:
http://www.geocities.com/vcupdate.
All selection forms MUST be returned by Thursday, September 4. NO LATE ENTRIES. NO INCO MPLETE EN TRIES will be accepted. If you have any questions about the rules, please ask them now so that we can share clarifications with every Virtual Venture C apitalist. The contest is open to all; feel free to share with other contestants. Go Phils!
